The athletic programs of this University are governed by the rules and regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association ("NCAA") and the Southeastern Conference ("SEC"). Current NCAA regulations require that, if you, as a donor to the University of Tennessee athletic program or any person directly or indirectly related or affiliated with you, violate any of the rules and regulations of the NCAA or SEC, the University must disassociate itself from you and that any future University related benefits or privileges available to you be terminated. Your participation in this program and your acceptance of benefits and privileges available from the University as a part of this program is your acknowledgment and agreement that, in the event of any such finding by the NCAA, the SEC or the University, all future benefits and privileges will be canceled and/or forfeited by the University.
